PRESS RELEASE

For immediate release.

We are pleased to announce the arrival of our newest MAGS team member, Kamber Carlson, as an assistant office coordinator. Sr. Team Director, Dr. John Edwards, says, "Kamber's strong agricultural background, coupled with her passion and understanding of the livestock industry makes her a valued asset to the Magness Land & Cattle team."

Kamber was raised on a ranch near Stoneham, Colorado, where her family operates both a progressive commercial cattle program and an elite farrow to finish swine unit. While growing up, Kamber was involved in many agriculturally based activities such as 4-H, FFA, and livestock judging. Through these organizations, Kamber was able to travel throughout the United States and internationally while competing on Farm Business and Livestock Judging teams. She excelled academically and in many extracurricular activities. Upon high school graduation, she attended Northeastern Junior College in Sterling, Colorado, where she received her Associates Degree in General Science and Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colorado, where she received bachelor's degrees in Agriculture Education and Animal Science. Highlighting her tenure at both academic institutions was her involvement and many successes on Livestock Judging teams.

Kamber says, "I am excited about the opportunity to work with one of the most progressive seedstock cattle firms in America."

On behalf of the entire Magness Land & Cattle Team, we sincerely welcome Kamber aboard.
